

PENNY WHISKEY

Penny Whiskey is a group of fun loving folks who truly have a good time doing what they love most...entertaining. The brain child of Kirk McWhorter (from the critically acclaimed Celtic band 'Kilbrannan') Penny Whiskey promises to offer the best in music from both Ireland and Scotland along with home grown bluegrass and folk influences.

The foundation of Penny Whiskey is the melodic vocals of Kirk, who also plays guitar, banjo, bodhran, whistles and percussion backed up by the solid playing of Jon Carlson on acoustic guitar and mandolin. The quintet is rounded out by Dan Lelito on bass with Paul Kneis supplying his talents on mandolin, guitar and flute and newest member Paul Runfola (who took second place in the North American Rock Guitar Competition) on electric guitar. Of course, everybody sings... including the audience!

With audience participation songs, rousing pub sings, comedy tunes and tearful ballads, Penny Whiskey offers something for everyone.
